Reflective Essay

The stories in the first section were about 2 of the 7 sacraments and how it helps God's grace reach us in our deepest need.

The first text story was about Baptism, which is the cleansing of original sin and a new beginning as a child of God. It follows the story of a woman who drifted away from the Church & re-entered after seeing her child's baptism.

The second text was about The Anointing of the Sick, which brings spiritual and sometimes physical healing. It follows the story of a senior citizen who had fallen ill due to her old age and when she received anointment from a priest with oil in the name of the Lord.

The stories in the second section were about ethical decisions beyond logic and how ethical choices are more about opening your heart to the call of love and mercy, even when it defies earthly logic, rather than about avoiding discomfort or adhering to strict rules.

The first text story follows a woman who helped a traveler, who was on her doorstep, get back to health. It is then revealed the traveler is a respected missionary who had been robbed and left for dead.

The second text story follows a man who discovered a hidden clause in his late grandfather's will that stipulated that a significant portion of the inheritance would go to a distant relative who was known for his estrangement from the family. However, instead of contesting the clause, he reconciled with the distant relative.
